

Informal Awards - by the Alphabet

Saying thank you means so much to the recipient. Formal recognition can be done by ordering awards through your awards committee.

Informal awards can also be done and can be done at any time of the year. They will only take a moment, and can be done in fun, inexpensive ways to highlight the individual contributions of our volunteers. Try some of the following ideas for informal recognition:

Stick to Paperwork By Terri Bouvier

(You are welcome to use the poem if you include Terry Bouvier's name) coloured paper or cards to print the poem on Halloween sized packages of chewing gum, or sticks of gum glue gun and glue sticks

Poem -
When the paperwork seems endless,
And you're feeling glum,
This will help you stick to it,
A pack of chewing gum!

Stress Balloon By Terri Bouvier (You are welcome to use the poem if you include Terry Bouvier's name)

one good quality balloon (I used the "You Go Girl" balloons) a large chopstick, pencil, or other long blunt ended object (to push the flour in) a funnel
push the neck of the balloon over the end of the funnel fill the funnel about half full of flour and push it into the balloon with the chopstick repeat until the balloon feels full, pushing the flour down into the balloon with the chopstick to get the air out (the more air you can get out the better because the balloon will feel firmer and hold its shape when it is squeezed) once it is as full as you want to make it, tie a knot in the neck and squeeze your stress away!

Poem -

Under lots of stress?
Life getting you down?
Have I got a gift for you!
It will soon turn those feelings around!
It may look like a balloon,
But just put it in your hand,
Then squeeze the "heck" out of it,
And you'll soon be feeling grand!

Tea bag - you have made things brew
Tape - you make us stick together
Top - you put the spin on things; you are tops in my eyes
Toy Drum - you set the beat for us
Treat (candy, dessert)- you are a real treat to work with!
Unicorn - You are a rare find
Weaving - you weave us together
Wishing Well - you made our wishes come true when you joined our team
