

7A. Adult Insignia of Office

From the beginning of Guiding, adults working directly with girls in units have been known as Guiders. Supporting them has been a large group of administrators, advisers, trainers, committee members, secretaries, etc. The terminology used for some of these positions has changed over the years, and some of their functions have evolved. We have chosen to divide the Adult section into three parts to reflect the differing roles of adults.

Note: There is also a section for earned qualifications that Guiders may achieve in addition to their insignia of office and a section for awards that are given for exceptional service.
