Gathering Activity	Print off the picture of the friendship ship that is in this meeting plan. The girls can write qualities of friendship I the sail and color their ship.	Key to me- Being a friend
Opening	Have your regular opening and have the girls share their friend"ship" that they completed earlier.
Craft	Toilet paper owl  Photo from: http://innerchildfun.com/wpcontent/uploads/2010/09/owlfamily3.jpg You'll need: toilet paper rolls, paint, glue gun, googly eyes, printed or coloured paper What to do: Before the meeting bend the top of the toilet paper rolls and glue gun them down to form the owl heads. Give each girl an owl and have them paint them. Then you can let them dry and play some games that are in this meeting plan. Once they are dry you can glue on paper wings, eyes and a beak. Now the girls have an owl to take home to remind them of Brownies and all the friends they will make over the year.
Game	Mr. Manners Says A variation on Simon Says, Mr. Manners states polite or impolite statements, along with the accompanying action. Have the girls do the activity if it is polite, but stand still if it's an impolite statement. For example, the statement, "Mr. Manners says shake hands when you meet a new person," would result in the children holding out their hand to shake because it is a polite action. The statement, "Mr. Manners says tell Dad you hate the dinner he fixed," would have the kids standing still because it is not a polite action.	Key to Me- Respecting Others

Game	I Am Your Friend Tell the girls to sit in the floor in a group. Seat one girl sit in a chair with her back toward all the girls. The girl in the chair closes her eyes. While she closes her eyes, another girl slowly walks up behind her and says, "I am your friend." The girl then sits back down. The girl in the chair then opens her eyes and turns around looking at the girls. She has three guesses to try to guess which girl spoke to her. If she guesses correctly, she selects the next player. If she guesses incorrectly, she gets another chance.	Key to Me- Being a Friend
Game	Circle of Friends Seat all the girls in a circle. Select one girl to start the activity. Have her look to her right and say one positive thing about what makes the girl next to her a good friend. Then move to the next girl to her left, until each girl says something positive about the girl next to her and explain why she makes a great friend. This activity brings the girls closer and builds strong friendships.
Game	That's Me! To play this game, gather the girls together and have them sit down in a circle. One girl will begin the game by calling out a statement about herself such as "I like to ride my bike" or "I have a younger brother." If the statement is true for any of the other girls, they should stand up and say, "That's me!" This game gets the girls on their feet and is an easy way for the kids to see the similarities in others.
Songs	Make New Friends Make new friends, but keep the old. One is Silver and the others gold. Circle's rounds, it has no end. That's how long I'm going to be your friend. Hickory Dickory Bumblebee Song Hickory Dickory Bumblebee Hickory Dickory Bumblebee Won't you say your name for me? (child says name) Clap it, _____ (clap while saying name) Shout it, _____ (shout it loud!) Whisper it, _____ (whisper name) Repeat for all girls present.
Closing	Be sure to say goodnight to all your Brownie friends!!!
