Activity	Valentines for Vets You'll need: cardstock, paper, markers, stickers, ...etc. Veterans Affairs Canada (VAC) has a great program called Valentine's for Vets which is a great service project for Brownies. All the girls need to do is make a Valentines card for a veteran. Keep the message happy and appreciative for the vet who will receive the card. They will not take cards with glitter on them. After the girls make the cards you mail them into the address below. They need to have received the cards by January so they have time to get them to the veterans. Use the link below to go to their website for their tips and message ideas before you begin so you know what they are looking for. http://www.veterans.gc.ca/eng/remembrance/get-involved/valentines-for-veterans/tips Mail to: Valentines for Vets Veterans Affairs Canada Canada Remembers P.O. Game	Peanut Butter Sandwich Dilemma This game is the best for pathfinder age. It is a game that shows how to negotiate and keep peace. I have attached the link to the game as it is best described here and it is quite long to explain. It is worth the work to set it up as once you have it you are set to play as many times as you like for years to come. This game will take quite a while to play so be sure to leave enough time. From: http://dragon.sleepdeprived.ca/games/cooperative_games/cooperative_games_27.htm
Drama	Peaceful Situations Have the girls brainstorm some areas in their own lives where conflict may occur. Then have them split up into smaller groups and do a small skit to show how they might resolve the conflict peacefully. Then show the group as a whole.

	Be sure to have a discussion about each skit and see if there are any other solutions to the problem.
