

Camp Fairhaven

Recent renovations include: new flooring in the bunkhouse, windows replaced in the bunkhouse, new steel doors with opening windows in the bunkhouse, new ceramic floor in the lodge bathroom, wood insert added to lodge fireplace, 3 new cooking firepits in the tenting area, and upgrades to the septic system.

Surrounded by the natural beauty of Prince Edward Island, Camp Fairhaven is located on the shores of Murray River in the eastern end of the island. With 75 acres, Fairhaven is an excellent choice for you to experience camping, to hold meetings, trainings, conferences and reunions.

At the foot of the property is a safe, sandy beach on the Murray River, a tidal salt-water river. A main lodge is available for your indoor program activities. It includes modern kitchen facilities, washrooms and showers, a spacious room and fold-down tables.

Newly renovated, MacKenzie House is suitable for residential camping. It features bunk beds for 22 and a separate leaders sleeping area for 8.
