	Leadership Qualities You'll need: some flip chart paper, markers Split the girls up into small groups so everyone will have a chance to have a say. Start by getting the girls to brainstorm words that mean leadership. Remember in a brainstorming session you do not want to be negative all ideas get written down. Then have the girls draw the outline of a person on the next piece of large paper. Now write their words around the person and then draw a line from the word to the art of the body that most applies. For example if one word is kind they would draw a line to the person's heart, if they use the word stable they might draw a line to the person's feet. This should get the girls thinking about how much it takes to be a good leader. Then each group can present their finished product to the other groups.	You and Others- Learn about leadership #4
Activity	Stranded! Split the girls up into groups of four or five. Then explain that they have all been stranded on a deserted island. Now tell them that they can only bring 6 items per team with them. Then have each group decide who their leader is going to be. They need to work together to decide this. Once they have chosen the leader they can start deciding what items will make their list. Let the groups know that the leaders have the final say if an item makes the list or not. The leader will be put into a position of making tough choices. Once the groups have finalized their lists ask how well the groups worked together. What kind of styles did the leaders have? How did they make the group members feel? Now be sure the conversation doesn't turn into blaming anyone but lead the conversation to what qualities a good leader should have.	You and Others- Learn about leadership #2
Creative Activity	Group Draw You'll need: paper, pencils, erasers, markers or pencil crayons and a whistle This activity will help improve teamwork, decision making skills and problem solving with team members. Split the girls up into teams of	You and Others- Learn about leadership in a group #6

	4 or 5 and give each team a sheet of paper some pencils, easers and markers or pencil crayons. Next tell them the rules <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. No one can talk 2. Only one team member can work on the sheet at a time 3. Each time the whistle blows a different team member takes over. You will then give them a topic, for example .."camping". The teams con not discuss how they are going to do it. The first member starts to draw until the whistle blows and then someone else steps in to continue from where the last drawer left off. Continue until each person has had a few turns. This activity takes understanding and working together to decide who will draw next without talking.
Create	Create a Game Have the girls work in their patrols. Set out a number od items such as balls, hula hoops, rubber chickens, bean bags, pylons....anything that is good for games. In their patrols they are to work together to create a game the whole unit can play. They can take a game they know such as tag and create their own spin on it. After each group creates a game they are going to work together to lead the game for the whole unit. Each patrol will teach their game. Remember to teach it clearly and remind the girls that the best games have clear rules and everyone can play.	You and others- Learn about leadership #3
Song	Down By the Bay The leader sings one line and the group repeats....until "have you ever seen a.....line....just the leader sings that and then the last line is repeated.)Have each girl take a turn and make up a silly line. Practicing their leadership skills. Down by the bay Where the watermelons grow Back to my home I dare not go For if I do My mother will say... Have you ever seen a... (insert silly line here) Down by the bay!

	Silly lines (use one of these, or make up your own!) Did you ever see a llama, wearing pink pyjamas? Did you ever see a goose, kissing a moose? Did you ever see a whale with a polka-dot tail? Did you ever see a bear, without any hair? Did you ever see cat, wearing a hat? Did you ever see a hare, brushing her hair? From: http://dragon.sleepdeprived.ca/songbook/songbook_index.htm
