

Activity	Description	Program
Opening
Game	Minefield You'll need- duct tape, blindfold Use the duct tape to tape off a large play area. Then take some duct tape and roll it as if you were putting tape behind a piece of paper to hang it up.....so sticky side out(each one is a mine). Place these mines all around the inside of the taped off area. Then you will blindfold one girl and then her team will help her get across using only their voices. They have to guide the blindfolded girl through the field without touching any of the mines. Follow-up Using your program book look at the badge and go through all qualities working effectively in groups and apply it to the exercise you just completed.	Find your inner leader- #3
Activity	Lego Build You'll need: legos Ahead of time build a simple sample of something with lego. Then split the girls up into teams and assign each one one of the leadership styles described in the book for this badge. Then have the teams put together their lego to match your sample. After everyone is done talk about how each group felt putting theirs together with their style. To make this exercise harder you could hide your sample and only allow one person from each group to be able to see it and they have to lead their group in the style they were assigned. It will depend on your girls as to what will work best. Be sure to do the follow up discussion.	Find your inner leader-#1 activity	Cartoon This activity will get the girls thinking about humor and how it works to keep teams motivated and moving along or use humor can diffuse situations. Use the quotes at the end of this meeting and have the girls pick one to act out with a friend or two. Have the girls show their skits to the group and hopefully everyone will have a good healthy laugh.	Find your inner leader- #4
	Brainstorm You will do this brainstorming carousel style. You will split the girls up into small groups. Have them use their books so they can use the list of leadership qualities listed in #2 of the Find your inner leader badge.	Find your inner leader- #2

	Then on three sheets of flip chart paper write down the three activities you did this meeting. Then have each group start at a different paper and have them come up with the qualities they saw in the named activity. After a few minutes the girls will switch to another paper, read what the other group put down and add anymore they can think of and then switch one more time. After the groups are done you can have a quick chat about what people observed over the night.
