RANGERS OVERVIEW

For young women ages 15 to 17

Rangers lead their own adventures and set their own goals to create their own unique Guiding experience. Rangers begin to explore career options and learn valuable life skills such as financial planning and building repairs. Rangers are also involved in active leadership opportunities in their communities and beyond like global development projects, eco-awareness initiatives and teaching skills to younger girls as Girl Assistants.

Your Ranger could experience these activities.

- Learning how to write a great resume
- Budgeting for living away from home
- Leading discussions about body image and the media
- Taking an overnight canoe trip
- Volunteering as a Girl Assistant with younger girls
- Connecting with the wider world through international travel
- Furthering their education through Girl Guides of Canada scholarships

FLAG ETIQUETTE

Flags and Guiding

In Guiding, you will often hear the terms, colours, colour ceremony and colour party.

Colours means the flags. The colour ceremony is the raising or lowering of a flag and the colour party is the group that performs the ceremony.

During a ceremony, meeting or special event

- When the Canadian Flag is displayed on a staff placed on a platform, stage or dais, it should be to the right of the speaker.
- When the Colours (flags) are used in the Guide horseshoe, the Canadian Flag is always on the Guider's right and the World Flag on her left as she faces the horseshoe.
- When displayed in places of worship or on a speaker's platform, the Canadian Flag should be displayed flat (hung horizontally) against the wall or on a staff on the celebrant's or speaker's right as she faces the audience or congregation.
- When used in the body of an auditorium the Canadian Flag should be on the right of the audience.

There are eight program areas and each program area has three themes under it.

1. Guide Together (Our Story, Spirit of Guiding, Camping and the Great Outdoors)
2. Explore Identities (Being You, Different Together, Gender Power)
3. Build Skills (Money Sense, Life Stuff, How To)
4. Be Well (My Mighty Mind, My Physical Self, My Healthy Relationships)
5. Experiment and Create (Science Lab, Design Space, Art Studio)
6. Connect and Question (Local Communities, Canadian Connections, World Stage)
7. Take Action (Your Choice, Your Voice, Your Action)
8. Into the Outdoors (Nature Discoveries, Our Shared Planet, Camping Skills and Adventures)

At enrolment, Guides get their enrolment pin, membership year pin and certificate.

Enrolment requirements: know the promise, law and motto. Guides also need to learn the Guide Handshake attend at least one meeting in your new branch.

SAMPLE ENROLMENT CEREMONY

GUIDER: You made your first Promise when you were enrolled as a Guide/Pathfinder. Do you now have a deeper understanding of the Promise and Law?

NEW RANGER: Yes, I believe that I do.

GUIDER: Please reaffirm your Promise.

NEW RANGER: (making the Guide Sign) I Promise ...

GUIDER: (As she pins on the red Enrolment Pin and shakes hands with the new Ranger.) The ____ Ranger Unit welcomes you as a member and trusts you to make the Promise and Law a part of your life.

*Make sure to involve the girls in planning their enrolment ceremony. The possibilities are endless!

RANGER AWARDS

Guiding at the Ranger branch offers you the opportunity to work towards three special awards:

1. Ranger Service Award
2. Cookie Campaign Challenge
3. Trailblazer Leadership Award (Bronze, Silver, & Gold)

RANGER SERVICE AWARD

Complete a service project in an area of interest to you. You should be involved in the full project including the following aspects:

- Research & Design
- Preparation
- Implementation
- Evaluation

You can complete the project on your own or with someone else. The project should require at least 20 hours of time to complete all parts. This service cannot count towards earning the Take Action program area Badge or the Your Action Theme badges.

COOKIE CAMPAIGN CHALLENGE:

Take an active role in supporting the sale of unit cookies in at least four cookie campaigns using at least two different methods over the four campaigns. There are three methods outlined below; however, others may also be used.

1) Getting Ready for Your Cookie Campaign

- a) Have a clear idea of what you're going to do with the funds raised, what you'll learn from the experience and what your sales goal is. Find out how much your unit earns per case.
- b) Research the cost of an activity and then figure out how many boxes of cookies would be needed to support it.
- c) Create personal goals for what you want to get out of selling cookies.
- d) Get to know your product to get ready to sell and answer questions.
- e) Understand the motivations of your customer. Put yourself in the customer's shoes to understand what is appealing about the cookies. Put together your thoughts on what motivates customers.

13

- o Public Relations Specialist – Writes news items to highlight the group's successes; lets people know about who has benefited from the sales.
 - b) Create a sales pitch with others in your unit and learn about making cold calls.
 - c) With a group, role-play possible scenarios that cookie sellers may encounter.
 - d) Get copies of any sales aids available from the national office (check www.girlguides.ca and Member Zone). Invite a marketing specialist to a meeting to talk about branding.
 - e) Check into the dollars and cents of managing cookie sales. Your cookie campaign is a hands-on chance to gain experience in money management.
 - o Create a budget for your campaign (or for the activity which the cookies will fund).
 - o Manage the cash. Show younger girls how to make change, use a spreadsheet to track sales and profits and help prepare bank deposits.
- ### 3) Sell those cookies.
- a) Choose one of the following options for pitching and selling your cookies, or create one entirely of your own:
 - o Set up events to promote and sell cookies (this is referred to as "in-field marketing"). Create a list of all the tasks that will be part of the event. Estimate when each item should be organized or completed.

15

- f) Brainstorm a list of typical customers and where and how you can reach them.
- g) Ask relatives or friends to assist you in finding out what kind of information would be appealing as an incentive to buy cookies.

2) Marketing Your Cookies

- a) Play a role in developing your unit's marketing plan. You could take on one of the following roles or another needed within you unit. Use your skills to choose a position that can make use of what you like and are good at.
 - o Event Planner - This person organizes the where, what and when for a cookie sales event.
 - o Art Director - Designs the cookie booth display and/or presentation.
 - o Customer Service Rep - Talks to customers and develops a short sales pitch to catch the customer's interest; she may also coach team members on how to present themselves to customers.
 - o Finance Manager - Tracks the costs and expenses of cookie sales.
 - o Marketing Manager - Finds new places to sell, identifies new types of customers, and creates thank-you messages.

- o Set up and complete a neighbourhood cookie blitz. Create a list of all the tasks that will be part of the event. Estimate when each item should be organized or completed.
 - o Set up and complete a cookie selling partnership with a local business. Create a list of all the tasks that will be part of the event. Estimate when each item should be organized or completed.
- ### 4) Additional options
- a) Review what you have learned from your campaign that will benefit you in the future. Make this part of the next cookie campaign.
 - b) Determine how to use the cookie campaign sales aids most effectively (collaborate with other units or groups; assign neighbourhoods or parts of your community to different groups).
 - c) Cookie campaigns can help you explore careers — particularly those involving sales, marketing and public relations. But here are a few additional fields to investigate. Meet with someone in one of the careers from the following list or go to his or her workplace for a tour:

16

- o Communications
- o Accounting or Finance
- o Advertising
- o Product Development
- o Food Sciences
- o Culinary Arts
- o Food Manufacturing
- o Media Relations
- o Graphic Design
- o Branding
- o Nutrition
- o Journalism
- o Entrepreneurial Studies

d) Review what skills you've learned through selling cookies that you could transfer to your resume and make these updates. Your skills clearly relate to sales and retail jobs. However, you've also learned "soft" skills that can be used to describe the kind of person you are and how you approach a job. Use your cookie-selling goals and sales record to demonstrate measurable successes.

e) Find ways to use cookie sales as a way to give back to your community and put it into action. For example: Invite people to buy a box of cookies to donate to a women's shelter, group home or seniors' home or promote cookie campaigns as a way of teaching skills and raising the profile of Girl Guides of Canada in your community

TRAILBLAZER LEADERSHIP AWARD

The Trailblazer Leadership Award is the highest award a Ranger can earn. This prestigious award is the culmination of your work as a girl member. A Ranger must demonstrate her leadership and management skills by setting her own learning goals, organizing community service, creating events for peers and younger girls and running cookie selling campaigns. The award recognizes a girl's outstanding achievement and her commitment to the Vision, Mission and Values of Girl Guides of Canada—Guides du Canada.

There are three levels to this award – Bronze, Silver and Gold. If you are interested in earning the Trailblazer Leadership Gold award, you will need to start planning early as a Ranger. There are activities in the digital platform to help you plan out how you can earn this award. Be sure to check out the Trailblazer Leadership Award Activity and Trailblazer Awards Planning Resource.

You can also earn parts of this award through working as a Girl Assistant with a younger unit.

BRONZE AWARD

PART 1

Complete one Theme in each Program Area. Program Areas include:

- Guide Together
- Build Skills
- Experiment and Create
- Take Action
- Explore Identities
- Be Well
- Connect and Question
- Into the Outdoors

To complete a Theme, Rangers should work on two topics within that Theme. Rangers can use existing program challenges, instant meetings and activities to complete a topic.

OR

Rangers can work independently, in groups or as a unit to develop a challenge on a topic of their choice. In developing a challenge, it should be completed over at least two meetings, and Rangers will need to:

- Develop outcomes, objectives, themes and skills appropriate to the topic.
- Develop activities for the challenge (either new or utilising those existing within the program) to be completed individually or as a group.

- Leading the meetings in which the challenge is completed.
- Sharing what you've learned – in your unit, in your community/school or through a bridging activity or meeting with another unit.

SILVER AWARD

PART 1

Complete the Bronze Award

PART 2

Complete one additional Theme in each Program Area. Themes completed in the Silver Award must be different than those competed to earn the Bronze Award.

To complete a Theme, Rangers should work on two topics within that Theme. Rangers can use existing program challenges, instant meetings and activities to complete a topic.
