Pocket Guide to Discovery Badges for Brownies

Are you itching to explore what you love? Excited to discover new interests? If so, discovery badges are just right for you.

Discovery badges are a special set of badges that Brownies can do solo, with an adult helper or as a unit. They're completely optional – try one or earn them all – it's totally up to you! Choose a badge and have fun exploring and sharing what makes you unique.

How Do I Earn a Discovery Badge?

- Step 1: Connect with a woman who's a leader or role model in an area that matches the badge you want to earn. You can talk with her about:
- What you want to learn about, try, and/or do for this badge
 - What she does in this area and how she got started
 - Your plan for this badge (asking her advice on how to make that happen)

You can connect in person, by email or on the phone. Remember to always have a caring adult with you when you're meeting someone new. You could also watch a video or read about a role model (for example, a woman in history) instead.

- Step 2: Make or do something related to the discovery badge to practice your skills or build some new ones! Check out the next page for ideas. For more examples, log in to the program platform (experience.girlguides.ca) and search for the discovery badge by name.

- Step 3: Share what you did or created with others. You could share with your unit or another unit you know of, a trusted adult or the role model who inspired you, or some friends in or outside of Guiding. After you've shared, let your Guider know what you did so they can help you track it on the program platform. If it helps, use the Discovery Badge Reflection Sheet at the back of this guide to share your experience.

Brownies will spend about 2-4 hours completing a discovery badge.
